ROY STODDARD IS FREED BY JURY

Verdict of Acquittal Is Returned After 1 1/2 Hours' Deliberation.

Roy Stoddard, South Janesville, was acquitted of a charge of bootlegging by a jury in municipal court here Friday afternoon after one and one-half hours' deliberation. The trial of the case began in the morning and was concluded at 3:10 p. m. the jury returning with a verdict of acquittal at 4:45. Charles Hawks was foreman of the jury. Stoddard's defense, as brought out through questioning of seven defense witnesses by his attorney, B. H. Ryan, was a double bluff. First there was testimony to show that he was not in his place at the time of the sale of the bootlegged liquor. Then, when the jury returned, Stoddard was put to bed in the Lucile hotel at 6 a. m. on Jan. 10, in an intoxicated condition, and that he did not leave the hotel until nearly noon, whereas Hawks had testified to having made his purchase of liquor at 9 o'clock that morning.

Witnesses for the defense during the afternoon were Thomas Griffin, Arthur C. Walsh, Harry Pierce, Oscar Dietz and John Baker.

Welsh and Pierce, taxicab drivers, testified that they took Stoddard to the hotel on the night of Jan. 9 on what is known as a "time call," for which they were paid $27. They waited several hours for Stoddard in Beloit and then brought him to the hotel. Welsh helping him to get to bed in the Lucile hotel at 6 a. m. The testimony of Manager Dietz of the hotel was that Stoddard did not get up that morning until close to noon.

Other witnesses testified that they saw Stoddard, the defendant, in the office of the Beloit city yards from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Jan. 10. Stoddard, not only Stoddard, but Dietz and Welsh, testified that Stoddard had offered to get them each a case of whiskey at a reasonable price, but they all refused, they said. Stoddard shook hands with the jurors after the trial had been adjourned by Judge H. L. Maxfield. At the situation stands now, Stoddard is free of the bootlegging charge but faces trial in circuit court on a charge of violating the liquor laws. He is charged with the old man in South Janesville in which Stoddard has been living. Stoddard is facing sentence on a liquor possession charge.

Pliny Norcross Fortress Shows Rapid Growth

The Captain Pliny Norcross, Fort Ross, No. 12, of the National Daughters of the G. A. R., which was organized Oct. 15, 1923, with 14 members, held a meeting Tuesday, at which a membership of 30 was reported. Five new applications were brought in from daughters of G. A. R. men, who wished to become members. A letter of introduction from the Norcross family of Chicago was read. The post was named in honor of Captain Norcross and the family sent a gift of $100 to be used as a memorial for their father.

BANDS PROGRESS UNDER RALPH JACK

Popular Janesville Director Adding to Laurels As Musician.

Since coming here, about 15 months ago, Ralph C. Jack has won for himself a wide reputation as an expert band director.

Mr. Jack came here in the fall of 1922 as instructor for the Flotian Band instrument company of Elkhorst, and a few months later was taken into the regular staff of the Flotian Band. He has been in charge of the band since that time, and has directed a circus band of 25 pieces.

Mr. Jack has been director of the Sixth regiment band and a professional orchestra at Monmouth, Ill. He has been in charge for several years and has directed a circus band of 25 pieces.

One of the projects which Mr. Jack favors is the erection of a band stand on the river bank north of the high school, overlooking the athletic field. There it would be possible to hold a large number of people and concerts could be held with more comfort. One of the disadvantages of the court house is, according to Mr. Jack, the large number of automobiles on streets on three sides of the park, causing unnecessary noise. It is otherwise well fitted, he believes.

The Bower City band and the school bands in Edgerton and Evansville, Ralph C. Jack now has under his leadership 351 musicians, ranging from grade school students to experienced men who have played with musical organizations for years. He has four high school bands, including a girls' band, in this city, and four grade school organizations.

Many of the old members of the organization, who have not played with it for the past three or four years on account of lack of interest, are now being encouraged to re-join the organization. The series of concerts to be given next summer.

Several places have been offered Mr. Jack for the most recent being to direct the Shrine band of 40 pieces at Peoria, Ill.

BENNETT'S FIRM IN DENVER MOVES INTO ITS OWN BUILDING

Moving into its own new building marks a progressive step in the growth of the Western Securities Investment company of Denver, Col., of which C. C. Bennett, a former Janesville man, is president.

After a business has grown its living quarters must grow accordingly, and so it has been with this company which started 11 years ago with two members, C. C. Bennett, now president, and Thomas B. Stearns, vice president. The firm now consists of 57 salaried employees in its general offices alone, not counting a large field organization as well.

Two other vice presidents who have brought energy and demonstrated ability to the organization are H. A. Bradford, who joined it as treasurer at first, and Harry K. Brown, who is also president of the J. P. Brown Investment company and has been prominent in the financial life of Denver and Colorado for many years.

Mr. Bennett was recently appointed a member of the national farm mortgage board, a government advisory body.

RADIANTFIRE

Give the Kiddies Real Comfort This Winter

You'll be amazed to see how much Radiantfire heat will mean to your entire family in comfort, health and convenience.

When the youngsters come in chilled and shivering or with wet feet, it will warm and dry them in one minute. On bleak winter mornings, they can dress in comfort before its cheery glow. And think of the enjoyment you will get from this beautiful open fire on chilly fall and winter evenings!

Radiantfire gives you instant warmth and leaves the air of the room fresh and cool for breathing. It means fewer colds—no more fussing to build fires and remove ashes. It burns gas at a cost of only three to four cents an hour and will at least save two tons of coal each winter.

See for yourself what a wonderful improvement this is over any heating device you have ever seen before. Priced from $15 up.

Introducing the NEW ORIENTAL

Corset Section—South Room.

The New Oriental is an entirely new type of garment, designed to wear under the gowns which are tight-fitting in the back. It is just where you need it—and nowhere else, a softly confining, comfortable undergarment which rounds the hips into perfect symmetry.

With the Oriental the young girl or the slender woman, who does not wear a corset, has all the charm of the natural uncorseted figure—without its natural imperfections.

The Oriental is made of suede, silk jersey, striped batiste or satin and is entirely unboned.

Be sure that the name "Oriental" is stamped on the tag.

Utility Service

WHAT DOLLAR YOU SPEND BUYS MORE VALUE?

WORKING FOR YOU

Men and women to the number of 10,000 employees of the gas and electric utilities, serve the public of Wisconsin.

Behind these workers is a group of 25,000 investors, whose savings have made utility service available to nine out of ten people of this commonwealth.

Utilities are not abstract corporations, functioning mysteriously in a realm of high finance. They are the clerk who takes your order, the workman who installs your meter, the engineers who construct and maintain plants, the chemists who make tests and the scientists whose dreams are transmuted into new processes and devices to make life easier and more productive, the investors whose pooled savings are the utilities' capital, the executives who plan and administer. They and their families are your neighbors. Their earnings pass into circulation through the stores of your community. Their skill, knowledge, hard work and mobilized funds make an essential contribution to the progress of each community and the Badger State.

These workers and investors are "the utilities." Utility service comes out of their money, their brain, their brawn organized and working for you every minute of the year.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

This intimate review and comment on dramatic, operatic and musical events of the week is written for the Gazette by one of the best known critics in the middle west, whose counsel is sought and whose opinions carry weight in the theatre and concert platform. She writes for the Gazette under a nom de plume.

BY E. M. M.

Everyone in America has come to know the name of Eugene O'Neill, that splendid young genius who still is not far from his thirtieth birthday, but who has already achieved the rank of America's greatest dramatist. But few people know much about him, where he lives or how he spends his time when not engaged in his extraordinary plays for our native theatre.

O'Neill, as doubtless you are aware, is the son of the other O'Neill, that splendid young genius who was one of the handsomest and most popular actors of the last generation, his reputation extending half around the world, and his small son early acquired the language of the show house, as he traveled from city to city with his actor father.

When Eugene O'Neill was a child, he spent his time at Princeton, where he spent the summer of 1903, and then at the college of the same name. After that, a small business appointment, a fortune hunting expedition into Honduras, tramping over the United States and Mexico, an attempt at acting out west in a tabloid version of his father's "Mardi," a short excursion into the managerial end of the theatre, and then a sea trip to South America, to Africa, more sea trips as sailor, where he gathered much material for later use, and early required the language of the show house, as he traveled from city to city with his actor father.

Then came a school followed by a brief career at Princeton, whence he departed on the earnest suggestion of the college deans. After that, a small business appointment, a fortune hunting expedition into Honduras, tramping over the United States and Mexico, an attempt at acting out west in a tabloid version of his father's "Mardi," a short excursion into the managerial end of the theatre, and then a sea trip to South America, to Africa, more sea trips as sailor, where he gathered much material for later use, and early required the language of the show house, as he traveled from city to city with his actor father.

Since that time he has given us numerous splendid dramas, "The Emperor Jones," "The Iceman Cometh," "The Hairy Ape," "The Emperor Jones," "Anna Christie," and a recently completed play of different caliber "The Iceman Cometh," which, doubtless, will be a triumph, and one in an incomplete stage to be called "Welded," a drama of love and marriage.

Mr. O'Neill, when last heard from, was contemplating a winter in the land of his ancestors, Ireland, where he hoped to see his play "Different" produced by the players at the famous Abbey Theatre, Dublin. In the summer with his wife and three year old son, he spends wonderful weeks at his home at Pelee Island, near Provincetown, Cape Cod. There they live in an abandoned coast guard house formerly occupied by the government officials, but bought by O'Neill, when the new Guard house was built several years ago.

Surrounded by shifting sands and facing the Atlantic ocean, he is free from interruption, for no auto may cross the life saving station, and wagon being the only vehicle equal to it. And there he dreams into superb reality, the visions that haunt his remarkably fertile imagination, and which have already earned him world wide fame.

Olga Petrova, former motion picture star, but now an author, actress of the spoken drama, has started the public with another melodrama, this time entitled "Hurricane," which, doubtless, will be a triumph, and one in an incomplete stage to be called "Welded," a drama of love and marriage.

Madame Petrova has had an interesting life even before she reached the stage as a profession, for when only seventeen, she became a reporter on the London Tribune, having completed a study in Warsaw, Brussels, and Paris. She is the daughter of an English father and a Polish mother, and is in private life the wife of a noted surgeon, Dr. John H. Stewart. They own a magnificent home at Great Neck, Long Island.

"Abie's Irish Rose," a play by Ann Nichols, which has been repeatedly panned wherever presented, in playing to continuously sold out houses in New York, and Chicago, the public having taken to its field of heart despite the untoward manner of the critics. It was first produced by a stock company in Los Angeles, where it ran for over forty-two weeks.

Julia Marlowe, who is appearing in Chicago, with her husband H. H. Southern, in Shakespearean repertory, is still adjudged the finest actress on the American stage. She is quite as beautiful as ever, her acquired years having power to dim her overbearing youth and her golden voice has the same charm that it did twenty five years ago. From Chicago the company goes to Milwaukee, where it will open at the Davidson theatre January 28, for a week of repertoire.

Martin Flavin, whose remarkable play "The Children of the Moon" created a sensation at its premiere last August, in New York, is a practical and successful business man. A new play "Kismet for Two," by Dr. Flavin is expected to have an early presentation.

Jane Cowell's "Cleopatra," to which Rolfe Peters is playing, is reported to be as fascinating and remarkable a performance as was her Juliet. The addition of this latest of Shakespearean roles to her repertoire, gives the young actress in the classic drama, a definite rank as a star in that type of play.

Gail Currier's farewell performance in Chicago the other night, was a sight worth seeing. The Auditorium was packed almost to suffocation, and the affection and esteem in which the greatest coloratura soprano of her day, is held, was evidenced by the incessant demand for repeats after.

Madame Currier has definitely severed her connection with the Chicago Civic Opera company, and says that she will never sing with it so long as it is under its present management. Next winter she will tour Europe, making her only American appearances in connection with the Metropolitan Opera company in New York.

In view of this situation, Marion Andrews, head of the Marion Andrews concert Bureau, of Milwaukee, will bring her first city in concert before the close of the present season. Miss Andrews is also presenting Paderewski in the Auditorium.

torium, January 20, the week also of the Southern and Marlowe engagement.

Sunday afternoon, January 20, there will be a special performance of opera in the Chicago Auditorium, probably "The Barber of Seville" in which will be heard Graziella Pareo, Tito Schipa, Chialapin, Rimini, Chassens and Trevelan, a cast that is incomparable. This week thus inaugurated will be the last of the opera for this season, which has been a most brilliant one.

Jean Gerardy, famous Belgian 'cellist, has returned for a tour of America after an absence of ten years.

Recent information, not authentic, announces that Ganna Walska has signed for an appearance in the films. Madame Walska and her husband have withdrawn their support of the Wagnerian Grand Opera company, after having contributed $100,000 to help it out of its difficulties.

If as reported, Madame Walska sang only six times, and then under a fictitious name, it was an expensive experiment. The company is in the hands of a receiver in New York City, with various surmises rife, as to its future.

MAJESTIC.
 "The Leavenworth Case," based on the famous story by Anna Katharine Green, will be shown Sunday only, at the Beverly, and should prove more than usually popular, as it is seldom that a mystery story is screened. The plot is familiar, as the book has been in print for about 40 years, but continues to be read.

The Leavenworth case, a wealthy old reclusive is mysteriously murdered, and the only clues are a handkerchief, a diamond ring, a burning letter and the call of a stranger into the evening. One of Leavenworth's nieces is strongly suspected because she has destroyed the letter, the handkerchief was hers and she had practiced shooting with the very gun which the murder was committed only three days before. Suspense is held to the last, and only those who have read the book can follow the clues to solve the mystery.

Engaged to Sir Charles Chetwyn, at the height of her fame, and a social season, a young American girl, Laine, played by Corinne Griffith, heads the cast of "Six Days," which will be shown starting Monday through Thursday. When she meets Don Jones, a handsome, successful young man, she changes her mind about the marriage. When they are alone, he is suddenly German, and she is imprisoned in a German dungeon, alone with a priest, who acts as their guide, and the duet collapses when a mine explodes, and he believes her other life is killed. The climax of the story comes when the lovers are reunited. One of the surprising features of the film comes when Laine reveals his identity.

The week-end picture, starting Friday, is "The Love Bandit," with Doris Kenyon, Victor Sutherland and Cecil Spooner, in the lead. The story concerns an eastern young man who takes the job of sheriff at Tombstone, Arizona, where the boys of the Double X, as is their custom, pay a visit to him, Franklyn Farnum and Gail Currier play the leading parts.

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN CRUDE OIL COST

WALWORTH COUNTY

ELKHORN

MRS. GRANT HARRINGTON.
 Elkhorn.—The county board of supervisors will meet in the court house next Tuesday at 10 o'clock. It is an adjourned session of the annual meeting. The work of the board will be routine and the session will probably only last two or three days.

The storm has made it hard work for the mail carriers, but all have covered the greater part of their routes. Herman Kappé, the veteran carrier, has made his entire route, with the aid of farmers along the line, and reaches home at about 6 o'clock. Lee Welkos, on No. 1, gets home just north of the afternoon, but cannot make the places around Lauderdale lakes. George Burpee, on No. 2, has to abandon a part of his route. Hal Hubbard, on No. 3, takes the whole day in spite of a relay of horses at Spring Prairie. Irvin Welkos can cover only a part of his beat.

The trucks of the Wisconsin Butter and Cheese company have been abandoned and milk is being brought to the factory by farmers. A truckload of milk, from Avalon for Milwaukee, could only get as far as Elkhorn Wednesday, and the load went by train for the balance of the trip.

Birthday Party.
 Mary Strong was hostess to 15 little girls at a birthday party Saturday from 2 to 5 p. m. at the Walter Strong home, North Broad street. Mary was 7 years old, had her usual large birthday cake, and her teachers, Miss Belle Duthick, to direct the games.

Monday night Supt. Charles A. Jahr is to speak in Lake Geneva, for the Chamber of Commerce. The speaker will precede Mr. Jahr's address on "Fundamentals of Our Constitution."

Walter Starek has taken the Prince of Wales to play on Sunday, Monday, Wednesday and Saturday nights. It is reported that Williams Day has secured a piece of lake shore property for a public park. It is beautifully located, with a fine lake frontage. Williams Day has made a larger growth during the past year than any place in the county. The village is ideally located at the head of Geneva lake and its growth during the next few years is assured. The funds for buying the land were obtained through private subscriptions.

New Outing Camp.
 Another outing camp for city people is to be established in Walworth county. Sixty-eight acres of land located on the north shore of Booth lake, two miles from East Troy, has been purchased for the Girl Scouts.

of Milwaukee. It has a lake frontage of 2,400 feet, and the equipment will be put up with everything necessary to take care of 200 girls. The camp will be run on club plans and will be a big improvement for the lake.

Among the Clubs.
 The Kakhar club will be entertained by Mrs. Harry J. Charlton Monday night, a 7 o'clock dinner will be served at the Edwina annex. Cards will be held for $5, and the guests will be invited to the Charlton home, 1010 North Highland, for cards.

The Catholic Girls' club will give a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Princess Tuesday evening. A business meeting and cards will follow at Columbus hall.

St. Mary's guild of the Episcopal church will meet with Mrs. Howard Young for a social and business meeting, Wednesday night.

The young people of St. John's Lutheran church met Monday night, and organized a Luther League. Officers are as follows: President, Theresa Schmitz; vice president and treasurer, Hazel Koopman; secretary, Marjory Deising. A name for the league will be selected later, as the members are ready for social and entertainment work.

The History club varies its Monday night program by having a 6 o'clock dinner preceding the study program. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Misses, H. H. Deising, A. J. Johnson and H. P. Schmitt. Misses, Amelia Kuhahnen and Lucy Carran. A paper on state institutions will be read by Mrs. F. H. Barnes, and a selected magazine article by Mrs. Fred Schmidt.

James L. Harris, manager of the Wisconsin Butter and Cheese company, and William Opitz, manager of the Elkhorn Canning company, leave Monday for Chicago to attend the National Canners' association meeting. They will visit New York city and Philadelphia and will be absent 10 days or two weeks.

Mrs. Paul Hughes went to Milwaukee, Thursday to visit over Sunday and celebrate the birthday of her sister Mrs. Oscar Helzlsouer.

Miss Janet Easonmanson, Milwaukee, an expert accountant, is working for Frank Holton & Co. a few days.

Mrs. Edward Helzlsouer returned Thursday from a three weeks' visit at her old home, Woodstock, O. She stopped at Peru, Ind., on the way home.

Ernest Millard, truck driver for the Wisconsin Butter and Cheese company, made Milwaukee Thursday, but had to remain at Peck's station on the return trip.

The W. C. T. U. met Wednesday with Mrs. Flora Fields.

Ed J. Smith toured the north this week, buying hay.

The Citizens' class met Thursday with Mrs. S. M. Warren.

The program consisted of a mock trial, in which Mrs. Martha Lowell sued Mrs. W. C. Smith for damages sustained in an auto collision. Miss Edith Smith and Mrs. S. M. Warren were the lawyers. Mrs. M. Lowell was judge. Mrs. Zetta Morgan, clerk of the court. Witnesses who appeared were Misses, Frank Wolfmeyer, Frank Ellison, W. Pellington and Maud Reitor. The jury, composed of six women, disagreed. There were 12 members and seven visitors present.

Final examinations for the first semester were given this week. There were several examinations in all the classes.

The third number of the lecture course, "When Sarah Slept," was given by the Chicago Lyceum players Thursday night.

Miss Mary Bird was in charge of the mission college featuring agriculture in their curriculum.

Receipts in the local postoffice totaled $28,272.43 for 1923. The figures were compiled by assistant postmaster, Ole Olson.

Misses, J. C. Coxo gave the second and third lectures in a series of parties, Wednesday and Thursday at the J. C. Coxo home, 600 Main street. The guests were served a two course luncheon at 1 o'clock, at the dining table and all tables in the large living room. Final examinations were used as centerpieces. Bridge was played by 15 guests, Wednesday, and 20, Thursday.

Mrs. R. B. James went to Grand Rapids, Mich., Saturday, to be with her daughter, Miss Helen James, for a few weeks.

Among those who have attended special attractions in Milwaukee during this week were: Mrs. H. H. McGraw, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McGraw, Mrs. E. E. Williams, Mrs. Ben Kraepelin and Mrs. W. T. Roseman.

It is computed that nearly 50,000,000 wild animals are killed yearly for the sake of their fur.

*He went without one box of cigars--
She gained $5,000*

When he took $5000 of insurance in the Aetna Life Insurance Co., Mr. John T. Hawkins was convinced that his policy should include a provision which doubled his insurance in case of accidental death. The additional cost for this provision was only $4.38—the price of one box of cigars.

Mr. Hawkins had paid but one premium before he was killed in an automobile accident. This same thing might happen to anyone. His wife received $10,000 instead of $5,000. Mr. Hawkins, by his foresight, left $5,000 extra for his wife and it only cost him the price of one box of cigars to do it. Every man should have this economical extra protection. Ask us about it today.

The roof above your head

ARE its rafters spun from dreams, or are they solid timber that you actually own? Will your children be born and reared amid well-loved and familiar surroundings, or will various roofs shelter them as you move from house to house?

The man who owns his home creates another circle of life, adds another unit to the structure of the nation; he becomes a substantial citizen and an active force in the community in which he dwells.

The man who owns his home is satisfying a deep human desire,—one so strong that it ranks as an instinct. And by satisfying this desire he is enlarging himself and adding happiness to the world.

If you want something to hold to, hold to your home. Sacrifice for it, scrimp for it, put money into a savings bank account for it. Then build it or buy it!

LEADERS OF MANY ACTIVITIES ATTEND G. O. P. MEETING

Home, church office and political arena were represented at a recent conference of leaders in the Women's National Republican Club in New York to which a number of prominent men Republicans were invited. A possible Presidential candidate,

James E. Watson, senator from Indiana, participated. Among the other men notables present were the Rt. Rev. Herbert Shipman, suffragan bishop of New York, and George S. Morris, businessman. The women who took a leading part were Miss Helen Varick Boswell, second vice president of the club, Mrs. Charles Sabin, one of the most prominent women Republicans in the country, Mrs. Francis A. Winslow, Miss Sarah Butler, Mrs. Cordella Severance and Mrs. George Orvis.

EQUALITY RULES "UTOPIA" FOUNDED BY VANDERLIPS IN SALVAGED VILLAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vanderlip and (center) their daughter, Narcissa.

A spirit of equality rules a "Utopia" founded by Frank A. Vanderlip, New York financier, on his estate at Scarborough-on-Hudson, New York. His children share their school with those of the Vanderlip servants and the town butcher and candlestick maker. Beauty is emphasized in the settlement and estate forgotten.

WILL GREEKS RESTORE EXILED MONARCH TO THRONE?

Photos showing the departure from Athens of the exiled King and Queen of Greece. George and Elizabeth. Left: Elizabeth bidding farewell to state officials; right: George leaving the royal palace.

Although it is believed that King George and Queen Elizabeth have occupied the Greek royal palace in Athens for the last time, there is a possibility that the always politically-fickle

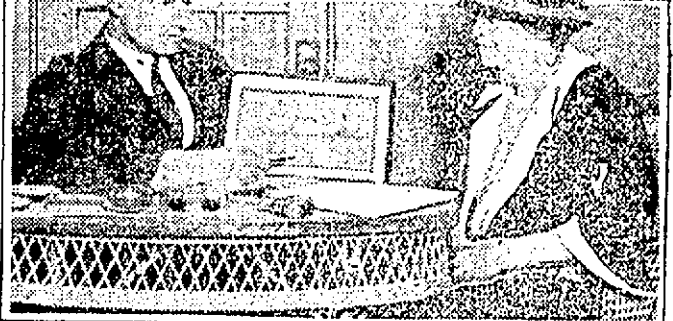

Greeks will restore them to the throne in the plebiscites shortly to be held. First a vote will be taken on whether to continue the monarchy or establish a republic. Then, if the monarchical plan wins, a vote will be taken on which royal line shall occupy the throne. The pictures above, which have just reached this country are the first showing the departure of King George and Queen Elizabeth for exile in the capital of Roumania.

Joe Bush drawing plaintive strains from his fiddle, Bob Shawkey tuning up his favorite instrument for a day's hunt, and Waite Hoyt as he listens for the down payment tinkle in a real estate deal.

Music hath charms to soothe the savage, it is said. That apparently includes big league ball players. For here we have three illustrious hurriers of the world's champion Yankees providing music for their own savage breasts. Joe Bush is really an accomplished violinist and devotes much time in the off months to practicing on it. He hopes to enter the musical field when his days on the ball field are done. Bob Shawkey finds music in the crack of his rifle and spends most of his time hunting near Philadelphia, his home town. Waite Hoyt is a real estate salesman in his home town of Larchmont, N. Y., and says there's a tuneless note in the tinkle of the

BLASE BROADWAY IS FOOLED AGAIN: BY SHOW BEAUTY

Mrs. Lewis Burgess (Rose Quinn) and her son, Ward Burgess II.

Blase Broadway has been fooled again. "She'll be back," it declared confidentially when Rose Quinn, its idol, married Lewis Burgess and left for Omaha, Neb., to live. Now Mrs. Rose Quinn Burgess confesses that she prefers home life to the glare of the spotlight. She is one of the most popular matrons in Omaha society and devotes herself assiduously to her home, her husband and her son, Ward Burgess II, heir to many millions.

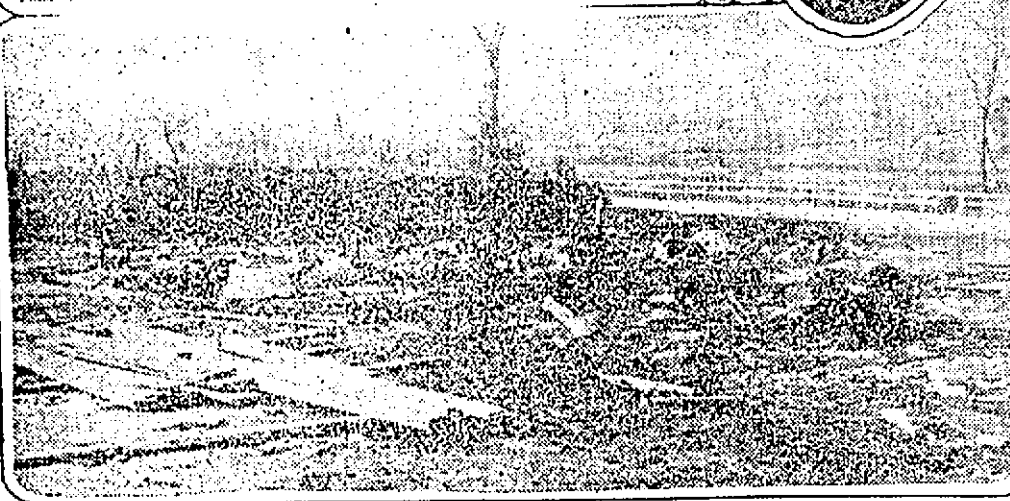

BURNING OF RAIDED HOMES STIRS "BLOODY WILLIAMSON"

Charles Jewtraw waiting for the gun, and under way.

American is counting on Charles Jewtraw, international speed skating champion of last year to carry Uncle Sam's colors to victory in the winter games of the Olympic, to be staged at Chamonix, France, late in February. Jewtraw has hung up several world's records in events ranging from the 100-yard dash to three quarters of a mile. Joe Moore, Harry Steinmetz and Harry Kasky are the other members of the American team. They are expected to back up Jewtraw by placing in the events.

Above—Residents discussing "war" developments in the "square" at Marion, Ill., and S. Glenn Young. Below—Ruins of a home put to the torch by "dry" agents.

Presence of three companies of state troops has failed to relieve the tension at Marion, Ill., county seat of "Bloody Williamson" where efforts tooust boot-legging bands led to a war with both sides resorting to violence. Federal agents in their zeal to preserve law and order, put the torch to several homes, it is alleged, precipitating a serious outbreak and resulting in the arrest of S. Glenn Young, federal agent who led some of the raids. "Bloody Williamson" was the scene of the Herrin coal mine massacre a few years ago in which many died.

Judge Jean Morris.

Crowding people together in apartments is the basis of most social evils of the big city, declares Judge Jean Morris of New York. "They lead pinched lives that are bound to be distorted," she says.

It wasn't love that caused him to shoot Courtland S. Dines, oil operator, denies Horace Greer, chauffeur of Mabel Normand, film actress, now being held in Los Angeles. Police have been working on a supposition that Greer shot while in a jealous rage.

MOTORISTS

Another Reason Why—

Buick Fundamentals

- 1 A firm and stable organization that has built a uniformly good car of economical price and operation.
- 2 A chassis so designed and coordinated that it performs equally efficiently under all conditions.
- 3 A wide variety of body types that meet all individual requirements and establish a standard of quality and style.
- 4 Buick Authorized service available everywhere throughout the life of the car.

The Buick valve-in-head engine has been recognized for more than twenty years as the most economical and efficient power plant. With its reduced waterjacketing space, more heat is retained in the cylinders and more power is therefore generated.

Emergencies On the Road and How to Meet Them

There are times out on the road when quick action will save you from a dangerous situation, provided you do the right thing at once. Lately many accidents have taken place at railroad crossings, and most of them with loss of life. ALL of these accidents could have been prevented if the driver had only exercised common sense. Most of these accidents occur because the driver tries to "beat" the train to the crossing. If you value your life or your car, STOP YOUR CAR, then LOOK, and LISTEN. When you are CERTAIN the track is CLEAR, then shift to low gear and move across the track.

A large number of accidents at crossings occur because the car gets stalled across the tracks. This generally occurs because the driver only SLOWS down, then hesitates when he sees that the track is apparently clear, tries to speed up his car without shifting to a lower gear, and finds that the engine gives out or two explosions—then stops—across the tracks.

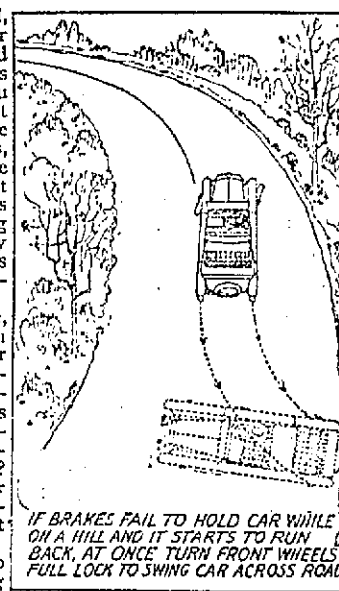

Now, if you value your life at all, when your car stalls on a railroad track, DON'T SIT IN YOUR CAR TRYING TO START THE ENGINE, but GET OUT at once. If there are any passengers with you, and there is a curve near the crossing that limits your view of the track for any distance, have one of your passengers run up the track waving something to show the engine driver that the track is obstructed, while you and the other passengers PUSH the car off the tracks.

This may seem like very foolish advice, but think it over. You sit in your car operating the starter. Every second you expect the engine to start, but for some reason it refuses to give a kick. You keep on operating the starter, then all at once you hear a train approaching, and try to get out of the car. Perhaps you find the catch on the door jams and there you are—TRAPPED inside your car, and the next thing that happens is—crash, and a mass of mangled pieces of an automobile are all that is left.

Sometimes when going up a hill, in changing from a high to a lower gear, you make a bad change, miss the gear, and the car begins to run back. Just at this time you find that the brakes you thought were all right, will not hold the car on the hill. When this happens, do not attempt to try to steer the car backward, you can't do it, but immediately STOP until the car comes over to the right. This will swing your car across the road. It may damage a rear mudguard, but it is better to do this than to risk smashing up the whole car.

Suppose your car catches fire, what is the best thing to do. In the first place, every car owner should carry a portable fire extinguisher strapped inside the dashboard, this little device is worth its place on every car. Suppose, however you do not have an extinguisher, what is the best thing to do? Throw or wrap your coat over the seat of the fire. This will prevent air getting to it, and without air you can have no fire.

What is the best thing to do when you meet a car with glaring headlights? STOP until the car passes unless you have a spotlight. If you have one of these useful little fixtures, adjust it so that its beam illuminates the extreme right hand side of the road. You then do not need to look into the glare of the approaching car, but can steer by keeping your car at the extreme right side of the road.

"THE PLACE WHERE SERVICE IS SUPREME."

Have you seen the Firestone Genuine Balloon Cords? They are double gum-dipped; a process necessary in the construction of balloon tires. The genuine balloon tires are manufactured in four sizes:
Size 4.40—for all cars using 3 1/2 inch equipment.
Size 5.25—for all cars using 4 inch equipment.
Size 6.20—for all cars using 4 1/2 inch equipment.
Size 7.30—for all cars using 5 inch equipment.
These four sizes alone, are recognized as being standard by the Association of Automobile Engineers of America. Other so-called balloon tires are obsolete.

A reflected vision, of the home she'd love to own

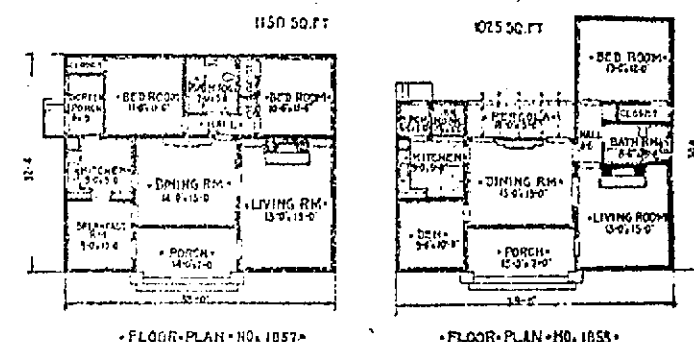

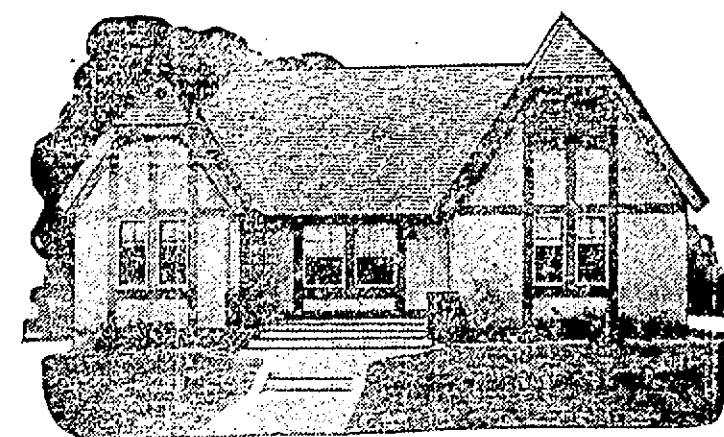

If the wishes and desires of every good woman could be fulfilled they would lead directly from the altar of matrimony to a home of their own and if this ideal start on the road to perpetual happiness were to become a universal practice the hinges on the doors of divorce courts would rust for the lack of usage.

In this illustration the mirror conveys her secret, a longing that comes to every woman who tries to content herself cooped up in dismal noisy rooms of an apartment, or whose desires for convenience, beautifying and making ideal homes are lost in a rented house. Contentment, convenience and love for home life represent the essentials for the making of perpetual happiness.

To own homes of our own, distinctive, attractive, convenient homes, in a congenial neighborhood, with ground for lawn, shrubbery and flowers, is a privilege, one that should be undertaken and made a reality before any other earthly possession is considered. For the home represents all that is good, true and beautiful, awarding its owner that feeling of contentment, success and protection and makes and assures the keeping of family ties closely united into an everlasting peace and happiness.

Home Ownership creates feelings of independence not only of circumstances but of character and thought. It gives to the children invaluable benefits of real home influence and it gives to you, Mr. Man, the stamp of stability, thrift, confidence and success. Owning a home of your own helps you in business, no matter what your work or position may be. To be known as a home owner is the best recommendation possible for you, and no man has reached his full stature as a man, father and citizen until he can boast of home ownership.

Ask the wife which one of the attractive homes she has seen featured that she likes best and see if arrangements cannot be perfected whereby her visions of an ideal home and perpetual happiness cannot be made a reality.
